STATE PARDON BOARD
MAKES LONG REPORT

One Pardon, 14 Paroles and Three Commutations Are Recommended.

News-Times Special Service:
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 30.—The state board of pardons in a report made to Gov. Haisont today recommended one complete pardon, 14 paroles and three commutations of sentences. Twenty refusals of clemency were recommended in the report.

The board refused to recommend a pardon for Clarence C. Shipp of C. county, who pleaded guilty and is now under suspended sentence for presenting false claims to a township trustee. A parole for William P. Freeman, sentenced for life for killing George W. Bennett, county soldier, home in 1905, was recommended. The same action was taken in the case of Allison O. Reynolds, sentenced from Vigo county for embezzlement.

The pardon, paroles and commutations recommended follow:

Pardons.
Reuben Wheat, sentenced June 23, 1905, by the Knox circuit court for life, for murder.

Paroles.
Allison O. Reynolds, Vigo county, sentenced March 27, 1915, two to fourteen years, embezzlement.

William F. Dreiman, Grant county, sentenced Sept. 7, 1908, for life for murder.

Charles Terry, Floyd county, sentenced Dec. 3, 1902, for life, murder.

Paul Deidman, Grant county, sentenced Oct. 11, 1909, ten to twenty years, burglary.

Charles E. Dixon, Marion county, sentenced Jan. 23, 1909, ten to twenty years, burglary.

Herman Airgood, Lagrange county, sentenced April 20, 1912, for life, criminal assault.

Frank Carter, Marion county, sentenced April 12, 1909, ten to twenty years, burglary.

Ernest Bogue, Madison county, sentenced May 13, 1915, two to twenty-one years, arson.

Edward Shannon, Vermillion county, sentenced Sept. 14, 1915, one to seventeen years, child desertion.

Robert Furell, Wayne county, sentenced March 8, 1909, life, murder.

John Grub, Floyd county, sentenced Nov. 15, 1915, one to five years, for forgery.

Roy McGlothlin, Vanderburg county, sentenced Feb. 5, 1915, two to fourteen years, for entering a house to commit a felony.

Burt Randolph, Tippecanoe county, sentenced Feb. 19, 1912, five to fourteen years, robbery.

Frank Harris, Clarke county, sentenced Dec. 20, 1912, ten to twenty years, burglary.

Commutations.
Edward Burns, Jackson county, sentenced Feb. 28, 1912, ten to twenty years, burglary, recommendation two to fourteen years.

Charles Richards, Washington county, sentenced Jan. 25, 1912, ten to twenty years, burglary, recommendation two to fourteen years.

George McClure, Knox county, sentenced Feb. 20, 1914, ten to twenty years, burglary, recommendation two to fourteen years.

TO MEET AT FORT WAYNE
BATESVILLE, Ind., June 30.—Fort Wayne was chosen as the meeting place for the Luther League of Indiana, just before the close of the annual convention here. Oliver C. Ketta, Indianapolis, was re-elected president. Other newly elected officers are: Recording secretary, Miss Laura Yost, Richmond, Ind.; corresponding secretary, Miss Mari Vetter, Indianapolis; and treasurer, W. H. Hertz, Fort Wayne.

'TIS A GRAND WORK HE IS DOING
PROOF ENOUGH—YES, MORE THAN ENOUGH—TO SATISFY EVEN THE WORST SKEPTIC IN THE COUNTRY

Fisher and the Quaker Remedies are heard of so often nowadays that they are well known throughout the city and surrounding territory. Fisher is very modest and unassuming, and claims no credit for the grand work the Quaker Remedies are doing here. He says:

"It is the medicine—not the man—that does the work. Of course, I am responsible for the medicine being offered to the people of South Bend, but aside from that I claim no honors. And again, this great curative work isn't new to me, even if it does seem wonderful to the public. Everywhere I go there are just such reports made to me as I am publishing here in South Bend."

"I have hundreds of testimonials on file, recently given by grateful former sufferers. And I know of hundreds of other cases where excellent results have been derived, but where the parties did not report same personally. They will certainly say they are even more than satisfied with the work of the Quaker Remedies."

Fisher can show you many more, from Akron, Canton, Sandusky, Springfield, or Youngstown, O. Also many Indiana cities and towns. Suffice to say, he is certainly proving what he says about the famous Quaker Remedies. Quaker Herb Extract is for stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. Oil of Balm is for rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago or pains and swellings of any kind.

Fisher is at the Landon Drug Co.'s store, northeast corner Michigan and Wayne streets, from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m., and will welcome the people. Quaker Herb Extract is 6 bottles for $5.00; 2 for $2.50; 1 bottle; Oil of

LAST OF MURDER TRIO IS PAROLED BY FERRIS

News-Times Special Service:
LANSING, Mich., June 30.—Gov. Ferris has placed on parole James Lawson, sentenced March 26, 1897, from Tuscola county to serve a term of life imprisonment for murder. In the fall of 1896 Thomas E. Stevens, Howard Shaley and James Lawson left Detroit and went to Millington township, Tuscola county to rob James Brown, who was supposed to have considerable money in his possession. During the robbery, Brown was shot, and the three men were arrested, convicted and sent to Jackson for life. Stevens' sentence was commuted to 16 years and he was released in 1905. Hawley was paroled July 5, 1912, leaving Lawson the only one incarcerated.

PART OF "TOUGH GANG"
LANDS BEHIND BARS

Five Elkhart Youths Arrested for Alleged Attack on Man With Girls.

News-Times Special Service:
ELKHART, June 30.—John Stevens of 607 Baldwin st.; Bernard

div of 1033 Johnson st.; William and Robert Grooms of 1118 Columbia av.; John Mosier of 1221 Johnson st. and Leneth Smith of 936

McPherson st., 17 and 18 years old, were arrested by Sgt. Sheldahl and officers Damer and Hummel, charged with assault and battery, by Sylvester Huston of 319 E. Jackson st. During the affair Huston drew his pocket knife to defend himself and cut Smith on the left arm, below the elbow and shoulder. Huston's account of what happened is that he was walking home with Gladys and Florence Kurtz and Mary Lemon of 1230 E. Beardsley av. and when on the avenue at 10:30 the youths arrested "jumped on him and beat him up."

Chief Riblet, who knows some of the assailants, says they belong to what is commonly called the "tough gang" of northeast Elkhart. Some of them have been in trouble which called for police investigation before. All of the youths but Bird, who gave bond, spent the night in jail.

Rev. Father C. Stoll, who for the past two years has served as assistant priest of St. Vincent's Catholic church at Logansport, is expected to arrive in Elkhart late Thursday to become assistant to Rev. Father P. J. Jansen, priest of St. Vincent's church here.

Father Jansen will leave for New York next Saturday for a visit of two weeks with his parents and other relatives, and will then make a visit in Wisconsin.

The seven Sisters of the Holy Cross, who formed the faculty of St. Vincent's parochial school during the last year, have returned to St. Mary's retreat at Notre Dame for the summer.

Carra Glenn Sanders, 33 years old, who had been a resident of Elkhart about 10 years, died Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sanders of Centerville, Mich. Mr. Sanders was a victim of pulmonary tuberculosis. He went from here to Centerville three months ago because of his ill health.

The body was brought to the C. E. Walley undertaking rooms Thursday and later taken to the Sanders home, 616 Madison st. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the burial is expected to take place Saturday.

Surviving Mr. Sanders are his wife, who was Miss Bernice Troyer, daughter of W. H. Troyer of this city, and a young son, Wayne Sanders.

Does Not Remember Charges.
In another indictment Kimball is charged with extorting $4.50 from Eva S. Young on July 12, 1915, in connection with a school fund loan. The former auditor said he had no recollection of making such charges, or of such charges having been made by any deputy in his office.

Doyle Pilcher, whose term of office as road superintendent expired last December, is charged with grand larceny for the alleged theft of sewer pipe worth $71.25, of road tar worth $25, and of stone and gravel of a value not known, all belonging to Grant township.

Clarkson D. Smith, county surveyor, is charged with being an accessory in filing false claims against the county in connection with road contracts. The amount of these claims is not known, but the state's attorney says it may reach $2,000.

The arrest of the officials created much excitement about the courthouse. The men under arrest all said they will be able to disprove the charges.

SIX CHARGED WITH VIOLATIONS OF LAW
Former Grant County Officials Are Indicted by Grand Jury.

News-Times Special Service:
MARION, Ind., June 30.—Six officials and former officials of Grant county were arrested today by Sheriff O. P. Wright on indictments returned by the grand jury, which reported fifteen true bills after a session of twenty-seven days, during which 242 witnesses were examined in an investigation supposed to have been devoted largely to county affairs.

Those arrested are: Charles Nelson and O. M. Brumfiel, members of the board of county commissioners; Thomas Lucas, of Fairmount, former member of the board of county commissioners, whose term expired in December, 1915; Clarkson D. Smith, county surveyor; E. H. Kimball, former county auditor; Doyle Pilcher, former county road superintendent.

All the men obtained their release under bonds varying from $500 to $1,000. Kimball, Brumfiel and Smith are republicans, and the three other men are democrats.

Other arrests in connection with the investigation of county affairs are expected soon, but no indictment has been made public, pending arrests by Sheriff Wright.

Charges Against Men Arrested.
Nelson, Brumfiel and Lucas are charged with violations of the fee and salary act; Kimball is charged with extortion; Pilcher is charged with grand larceny, and Smith is charged with filing false claims against the county. Charles Nelson reported at the office of the sheriff today and waited for the grand jury to be presented.

The warrants were not handed to the men until they were arrested. The charges against Brumfiel and Lucas are similar. It is alleged that these men on December 10, 1915, unlawfully received $142 for their services in inspecting four roads in Grant county. The roads had been completed by contractors, and the commissioners charged $35 for the inspection of each road, the inspections all being made in one day.

Statement of Nelson.
Nelson said it has been customary for county commissioners to charge for the inspection of roads when completed. The commissioners had the matter up with the state board of accounts a year ago, he said, and the charge for inspection had not been denied.

Nelson also is charged with being an accessory in filing an alleged false claim for material bought for the county.

E. H. Kimball completed his term as county auditor last year. He is charged in two counts with extortion. It is alleged that on March 16, 1915, as auditor and by virtue of his office, he extorted from Charles Fleming $32 as a fee in the case of a mortgage for a school fund loan. It is averred in the indictment that this fee could not exceed $7.50 and that the excess of $24.50 was extorted.

Doyle Pilcher. His term of office as road superintendent expired last December, is charged with grand larceny for the alleged theft of sewer pipe worth $71.25, of road tar worth $25, and of stone and gravel of a value not known, all belonging to Grant township.

Clarkson D. Smith, county surveyor, is charged with being an accessory in filing false claims against the county in connection with road contracts. The amount of these claims is not known, but the state's attorney says it may reach $2,000.

The arrest of the officials created much excitement about the courthouse. The men under arrest all said they will be able to disprove the charges.

STATE WILL GET TAXES INSTEAD OF TOWNSHIPS
Commission Rules That Money Should be Paid Into Michigan Treasury.

News-Times Special Service:
SAGINAW, Mich., June 30.—Through the action of the state tax commission, the property of the Michigan railway has been taken off the tax rolls of the several townships of Saginaw county and will pay its taxes into the state, if the commission's action is held valid.

At the meeting of the board of supervisors notice was given by the tax commission that the third rail line, running from here to Flint and Bay City, must not be taxed by the township officers.

The message said that Atty. Gen. Fellows had held that this was legal. No mention was made of the interurban line running along the west side of the river. The prosecuting attorney was instructed to secure an opinion from the attorney-general as to the legality of the state law in the matter.

The board received petitions signed by over 2,000 asking that the office of the road commissioner be made elective. It was made appointive two years ago.

MUSIC TEACHERS TALK ABOUT MODERN HARMONY
Edward Manville Tells What Composers Are Doing Now.

News-Times Special Service:
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., June 30.—Modern ideas of harmony, especially compositions containing chords that cannot be resolved along established lines of procedure, were placed on the grill by the Michigan State Music Teachers' association.

Edward B. Manville of Detroit conducted a round table on composition, during which he pointed out what modern composers are doing. Chords that would never have been accepted in the old days are now being used by certain composers, he said, making combinations of notes that are in reality discords. Some of these modernists can explain their radical steps in a manner that sounds plausible, he admitted, but simply use them, and are unable to give any reasons. For this latter class, Mr. Manville had little use.

SMALLEST ROOKIE IN CAMP TO BE MARRIED
Rejected Four Times, Goes to Muskegon, Enlists and Finds Girl.

News-Times Special Service:
MUSKEGON, Mich., June 30.—Thomas W. Creighton of Grand Haven, smallest rookie in Muskegon Co. G, thirty-second Michigan infantry, who was rejected at Grand Haven four times when he tried to enlist and who rented a bicycle for 50c to come here to enlist, has gone to Grayling. He writes back that he is the happiest man in the world.

"When I came back, I'm coming back to the best girl in the world," he wrote. "I met her two days ago and we've gotten so well acquainted since, up to the time of my leaving for Grayling, that it seems we've always known each other. We were engaged Friday night, and all the money I can lay away from now on will be used to buy her the ring."

Creighton's letter contained the name of the girl, but he cautioned against its publication.

LAZY PEOPLE DEFECTIVE EITHER IN MIND OR BODY
Kalamazoo Doctor Says Feeble-mindedness Due to Two Causes, Accident or Heredity.

News-Times Special Service:
KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 30.—"A lazy man is either defective in mind or body," Dr. W. R. Stone, former assistant superintendent of the Kalamazoo state hospital in session here.

Dr. Stone pointed out that feeble-mindedness was due to two causes, either accident or heredity. By accident he meant a condition which sometimes develops from illness. A large percent of the inmates of the state hospital in Michigan are feeble-minded, he said.

The financial condition of the organization was shown to be good by the report of the secretary-treasurer, Judge Clark E. Higbee of Grand Rapids, who was not present, being with the guardsmen at Grayling.

P. O. CLERKS TO MEET
Program for State Meeting at Muncie Announced.

News-Times Special Service:
MUNCIE, Ind., June 30.—The annual state convention of Postoffice Clerks and Carriers' associations in Muncie July 3 and 4, will hear addresses by nine former postmasters and the present postmaster of Muncie. A special train is planned to bring Indianapolis postoffice employees to the Muncie meeting.

Rev. John A. M. Adair probably will speak Monday evening. The visitors will be welcomed by City Atty. John McPhee. The nine former Muncie postmasters and the present postmaster and the subjects of their addresses follow: "My Postoffice," the Rev. Henry C. Marsh; "Short Reminiscences of My Eight Years," John C. Eller; "How We Took Care of Uncle Sam's Business," Robert L. Patterson; "My Lucky Day—Career Service," John E. Ranta; "A Servant Again," Judge Frank Ellis; "After Many Years," Edward M. Tuhey; "In Again—Rural Service," David A. Lambert; "Some of the Same," Robt. Carl White; "Out Again," Robert L. Williamson of Indianapolis; "The Real It," Frank D. Fairbairn, the present postmaster.

SENTENCED FOR BIGAMY, FRIENDS SAVE ACCUSED
News-Times Special Service:
MUNCIE, Ind., June 30.—Henry Cecil, 49 years old, was sentenced in circuit court to from two to 14 years in the state prison for bigamy, but his sentence was suspended by Judge Frank Ellis on petition of several friends, who thought there might be mitigating circumstances. Cecil married Miss Minnie Linville of Muncie less than two years ago, and when his first wife, Mrs. Addie Cecil, died, learned of the second marriage she caused his arrest. The second wife testified that Cecil had said that his first wife was dead. She then filed a petition for the annulment of the "pretended marriage." The petition was granted and her maiden name was restored.

JOHN WRIGHT ARRESTED
Former Cumberland Gap Postmaster Alleged to Have Shortage.

News-Times Special Service:
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 30.—John N. Wright, 35 years old, formerly postmaster at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., was arrested at his home near Hope, Ind., by Frank S. Keam, United States deputy marshal, charged with a shortage in his accounts with the postoffice department. Wright was released on a bond for $1,500 later. He must appear in the district court at Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 1. Guy G. Bailey, postoffice inspector, said the alleged shortage was about $1,200. Wright denied knowledge of any shortage when arrested.

HUNGER CAUSED ARREST
PETERSBURG, Ind., June 30.—News-Times Special Service:
John N. Murray, 49 years old, charged with the murder of Carl Summer, a young farmer near here, Monday, surrendered to the officers of Pike county. Hunger drove him from hiding. To avoid possible violence Murray was taken to Washington, Ind., and from there to the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville. Murray had trouble with Summer about some fishing nets. He went to the home of Henry Bruner, who said he was ready to surrender. Bruner turned him over to the sheriff.
